Organize New Southern Trans Canada Highway Association; Lance Morgan, President

Frank Aboosafy New Secretary; Provincial Govt. to be Petitioned to Improve Southern Highway From Medicine Hat to Hope, B.C.

Determined that the governments of Alberta and British Columbia must and shall give N. 3 Highway, through southern Alberta and southern British Columbia, its rightful recognition as an important link in the Trans Canada Highway, representatives from Lethbridge, Macleod, Pincher Creek and Nelson, BC, Boards of Trade, and Coleman, Blairmore and Bellevue Lions clubs met at Frank on Friday evening to organize an association through which representation could be made to the two governments for-needed improvements on this highway, R. W. Greenway, of Lethbridge, presided.

Officers elected: Hon. president, R. W. Greenway, Lethbridge; president, L. L. Morgan, Blairmore; 1st vice-president, D. A. Boyle, Macleod; 2nd vice-president, John Learmonth, Nelson, BC; secretary-treasurer, F. Aboosafy, Coleman. Directors: R. W. Morgan, Pincher Creek; C. A. Bryant, Lethbridge; Walter Warn, Bellevue, Medicine Hat, Fernie, Cranbrook, Creston, Trail, Rossland and Taber will appoint their respective directors.

The following resolutions were adopted:

(1) That an association be set up to be called the Southern Trans-Canada Highway Association to take in the territory from Medicine Hat, Alberta, to Hope, BC, with all feeder points adjacent to this line.

(2) That there shall be set up a sub-committee in Alberta and one in British Columbia for the purpose of handling any matter relative to either province separately when same is necessary, but as far as possible all road matters shall be handled through the main Association.

(3) That the BC highway No. 3 between the Crows' Nest Pass and

STUDENTS' POSTPONEMENT OF MILITARY TRAINING

It was announced this week by Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, minister of labor, that instructions are being issued to the thirteen divisional registrars responsible for the regional administration of National Selective Service mobilization regulations that students' postponement of military training will be extended until further notice. Students upon entering employment come under selective service civilian regulations and must obtain work through the local employment offices.

The text of the letter to be forwarded by the divisional registrars to students affected is as follows:

"This is to inform you that your present postponement of military training as a student is extended until further notice. Your postponement therefore remains in effect."

"If you leave your studies and intend to enter employment, you must report to a local employment and selective service office before you seek employment."

"If you become a technical person on graduation, you may seek employment without reporting to a local employment and selective service office, but any contract of employment must be approved by the wartime bureau of technical

Hope be known as the southern trans-provincial highway and be relocated where necessary and standardized and made ready to become part of the Southern Trans-Canada Highway.

(4) That the central organization get in touch with the several Boards of Trade together with all organizations interested in better roads and the development of the tourist industry in order to collect funds necessary for the carrying on of the work of the Association.

(5) The following resolution was to be sent to the Department of Public Works, Edmonton:

Whereas it is expected that there will be a large influx of tourists as soon as the war is over; and

Whereas the tourist trade is of very great financial importance to Canada; and

Whereas the influx of tourists will be greatly governed by the condition of the roads that they will be expected to travel over; and

Whereas the highway from Pincher to the BC boundary is almost all of it without hard-surface or even bloter treatment and is not fit for the expected traffic.

Therefore, it is resolved that we, the Southern Trans-Canada Highway Association, do most strongly urge that immediate steps be taken to have this road built up ready for hard-surfacing at the earliest possible moment. Further we recommend that a resurvey of parts of the route would be advisable so as to do away with portions running north and south.

A circular letter outlining the advantages to all communities on the Southern Trans-Canada Highway will be drafted and sent to all Boards of Trade, councils and community clubs urging them to become members of the Association.

(3) That the BC highway No. 3 between the Crows' Nest Pass and personnel before you start work."

Teachers

Enquiries have been received regarding the status of teachers whose contracts will expire June 1. Teachers will be given permits to seek or enter employment outside the profession should they desire to do so prior to Sept. 1, the date on which the lifting of the freeze officially takes effect.

It is emphasized, however, that it will be necessary for the teacher to furnish satisfactory proof of existence of contract before a permit is granted.

CONCRETE STEPS BEING BUILT AT ST. ALBAN'S CHURCH

During the past week the town crew, plus two carpenters, have been busy working in front of St. Alban's church.

Concrete steps will be laid from Fourth street right up the hill to Fifth street and will stop immediately east of the Frank Graham residence at the top of the hill. It is understood that St. Alban's will extend its platform, leading into church, to meet with the new concrete steps and that the present wooden platform will be lifted and replaced in concrete. Concrete was being poured today and the steps should be open to the public within a day or two.

"CUBBY" JENKINS ON WAY HOME

L.B. Robert Jenkins

A wire was received at the week end by Mrs. Robert Jenkins, Jr., of Vancouver, from her husband, L.C. Jenkins, advising her that he had landed in Canada and hoped to be home within a few days. Mrs. Jenkins arrived in Calgary on Tuesday morning, where she will meet him at the home of his sister, Mrs. Dave Jessey. After a short time in the city they will visit relatives in Coleman before proceeding to the west coast.

Impressive Funeral Service Given Harold Houghton

Legion and Air Cadets Attend in Strength; Firing Squad Brought From Claresholm For Occasion.

One of the most impressive funerals held in Coleman in many years took place on Monday evening as Harold Houghton was laid to rest in the Union cemetery.

At 5 p.m. members of Coleman, Blairmore and Bellevue Legion branches met at the local Legion club under the supervision of Lieut. M. W. Cooke, as did the Women's Auxiliary, B.S.L.S. Also gathered at the same point were Air Cadets and officers from the Coleman, Blairmore and Bellevue-Hillcrest squadrons, as well as a RCAF firing party brought from Claresholm for the occasion. Lions clubs of Coleman and Blairmore met at the Grand Union before proceeding to the home.

At 5:15 Legion members and Air Cadets, paced by Pipe-Major J. Moore, Bugler J. Lowe and Drummer H. Parkinson, marched slowly towards deceased's home, lining up at attention at the east end of Third street.

A brief service was held at the home. Pallbearers W. Antic, F. Artobro, H. Eason, A. Hartson, J. McDade and H. Russell, flanked by honorary pallbearers FO W. S. Purvis, FO H. Allen and FO P. E. Dickeson, of Air Cadet Sommers Squadron No. 73, and C. D. Rogers, F. Guedard and A. Balloch, of Coleman Lions club, carried the Union Jack draped casket to the hearse, where it was taken to St. Alban's church where the funeral service, shared by Canon Axon, of Macleod, and Rev. W. E. Brown, was conducted. Tribute was paid deceased by Rev. Brown for his activities in the Canadian Legion and Air Cadets.

Following the service the funeral procession in which many friends and acquaintances formed a part, wended its way slowly to the cemetery. Scores surrounded the graveside as the casket was carried slowly to the grave where Canon Axon and Rev. Brown conducted brief services. The Legion service was conducted by Comrade Robert Parry.

The firing party fired three volleys over the grave. Pipe Major J. Moore played the "Flowers of the Forest" and Bugler J. Lowe played the "Last Post."

The many flowers spread around the graveside gave quiet testimony to the love and esteem in which deceased had been held by his fellow citizens.

Relatives attending from out of town included Petty Officer Harry Houghton, of Halifax; Mrs. J. Ferguson and Mr. Ernie Houghton, of Vancouver, and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hamon, of Natal.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks and appreciation to all those who sent flowers, cards of sympathy, loaned cars or who in any way aided during our recent sad bereavement.—The Houghton Family.

$12.50 Chenille Bedspread to be Prize Each Hour on Bingo Booth at Carnival

Everything Being Made in Readiness for Monster Carnival June 30 and July 2; Stuffed Animal Booth to be New Feature.

This coming week gangs of Elks and curlers will be seen walking towards the skating arena each evening where they are busy erecting booths for their joint carnival on Saturday and Monday, June 30 and July 2. This week a carpenter has been busy getting the dance floor in shape and has been aided during the day in moving several sections into place by a number of young business men.

The biggest carnival news this week was that $12.50 chenille bedspreads would definitely be given each hour as bingo prizes. The ordinary bingo game will be 10c, but the price will be boosted to 25c when the bedspreads are up for the hourly prize. In addition some hams and bacon will be placed on the bingo booth in order that patrons will be able to win something they can really use.

The large blankets have already arrived and those having seen them state that the quality is much higher than in past years. They will have a booth of their own, as will also the hams and also the bacon, which are now on their way to Coleman.

There will be two new booths at least. One will be the flag booth. Flags measuring 6 feet by 3 feet and representing the countries of Allied Nations will be on display and are expected to prove very popular. The second booth is the stuffed animal display. There will be cloth animals, as well as some beautiful leather ones. This latter booth is expected to be the mecca for the youngsters.

In addition there will be lamps, dolls, etc., as well as the crown and anchor, jingle and other popular cash games.

Routine Matters Engaged Council's Attention

Hope to Have Light & Water Hearing in Early Fall; Twenty-Four Cattle Reported in Cemeteries Last Week.

Regular meeting of the council was held on Monday evening. Present Mayor Aboosafy, Councillors Cox, Dutil, Lowe and Ramsay.

Tony Lycka was present to protest against his tax arrears. It appears that while absent from town some time ago furniture in his West Coleman home was taken by someone at present unknown. He blamed council for disposing of the furniture which he valued at $500.

Council claimed that when it visited the house there were only approximately $20 worth of furniture in evidence. Lycka stated he was not going to pay tax arrears until town made good the furniture. The discussion finally concluded with council stating that if he failed to pay all arrears and current taxes stepped would be taken to see that he did pay them.

A. R. Montalbetti was present to ask council's consideration towards laying a new concrete sidewalk in front of his main street store and also improve the drainage system in the back alley at the rear of the store. Council had planned on improving the drainage system, but gave no definite promise as to when a new sidewalk would be put down, pointing out that some sections of the main street sidewalks were in worse condition than the portion under discussion and they would be repaired first.

Correspondence was received from D. G. Mackenzie, town solicitor, advising council that the hearing by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners on the Light & Water question would not be heard until this fall.

Permission was granted Constable Antle to start his vacation on July 15.

The report received by the local TB Clinic from A. H. Baker, medical superintendent and director division of Tuberculosis Control, was placed before council for its consideration.

An appeal was made by a local Chinaman against his tax. The tax was confirmed and he will be notified of this fact.

Secretary was authorized to write the Calgary office of the War Assets Corporation regarding the purchase of a fire truck.

The janitor of St. Alban's church will be asked to refrain from placing ash cans on the side of the highway. The ashman will be asked to back alongside the church in order to get the ashes and he will also be asked to drive down the alley behind the A. Hughes residence on Fourth street to pick up ashes.

Last week 24 cows were to be seen in the union cemetery, according to a report submitted to council by Councillor Cox. He blamed this on carelessness citizens who drove away without shutting the large gate or pedestrians who failed to shut the small gate. It was decided to place a strong lock on the gate and have only two keys, one to be given to the undertaker and one to be left in the town hall. Henceforth all motorists will park their cars on the flat below the cemetery.

A "No Parking" sign will be placed alongside the St. Alban's church steps. Motorists guilty of parking there are obscuring the vision of motorists approaching the brow of the hill. As a result of this a youngster came within an ace of being knocked over by a car last week.

1945 Hospital Tax To Finance Nurses' Home

No Provision Had Been Made in Original Estimates for Nurses' Home; Had to Requisition This Year or Lack Home for Number of Years.

This week ratepayers received their tax notices and found that they were being called upon to pay their 1945 Municipal Hospital tax, the minimum being $10.00.

In order to clear up much misunderstanding as to why the requisition was made this year when no hospital services will be available, it is necessary to know a few facts with which the Board was confronted.

When estimates were first drafted no provision was made for a nurses' home. Since it was essential to construct a home the only manner in which funds could be created to finance it was to requisition the district in 1945. This has been done and the home will be constructed along with the main building and ready for occupancy when the hospital is opened for business.

It is expected that the home will cost approximately $15,000 furnished, and will house at least fifteen nurses.

Mrs. James Flock is a patient in the local hospital.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

Canada's steel production has been doubled since the outbreak of the Second Great War.

Laurence S. Dalgleish, 71, who sent the first experimental radio message from a ship at sea, died recently at Scalloway, Shetland Islands.

An official of the National Union of Teachers says it will take five or six years at least to catch up with the wartime deficit of 20,000 teachers in Britain.

A recent special appeal by the Trinidad-Tobago Branch of the British Red Cross Society has been the means of raising $17,000 for the Red Cross.

The famous great organ of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, smashed by a bomb in 1940, will cost £15,000 ($47,500) to repair. The job has been started.

Sir S. Varadachariar, judge of the federal court of India, has been elected honorary master of the bench of the inner temple. This is a unique distinction for a judge in India.

Reports from the United Kingdom indicate that the British Government intends to encourage the re-establishment of the beef cattle industry and permit submargin wheat land to be put back in grass.

German V-weapons killed 5,000 persons, injured 21,000 and destroyed 10,000 homes in Antwerp during the German campaign to knock out the port city after it had been taken by the 1st Canadian Army.

India has decided to establish a state factory to manufacture 350,000 tons of ammonium sulphate annually. It is to be erected near a coal-producing area where subsidiary industries can be developed.

Brought Down Planes

Britain's Balloon Barrage Was A Most Effecting Weapon

Bomb-carrying balloons, touted by the Japanese as their newest weapon, are an old hat to the British who had them as long ago as 1941. The Daily Telegraph said.

The Telegraph said the balloons, which cost about $4, were used to bring down German bombers costing around $200,000. They carried a mine made of an old tin can, filled with explosive, hung on the end of piano wire.

The balloons were loosed in bomber paths, and a fuse arrangement attracted them to raiding planes. The Telegraph said when the communiques used to report planes shot down by anti-aircraft fire and "other devices", they meant the balloons.

Tripled To Buy Freedom

Collaborator With Nazis Donated $1,600,000 To Norwegian Red Cross

Norwegian police said Olaf Fergmann, wealthy businessman under arrest on charges of collaborating in the Nazi cause, has been freed. There with the Germans, attempted to purchase his freedom by donating $1,600,000 kroner (approximately $1,600,000) to the Norwegian Red Cross the day Germany capitulated.

The money was part of a fortune of more than $11,000,000 he amassed during the Nazi occupation, officers said.

"Georgey Gorkey" in the Mother Goose rhyme is supposed to refer to King George I.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

DEER FIND NEW HOME—The two motherless deer shown above dining unconcernedly from the hands of their "foster-mother" have been living on Newcastle Island, a summer resort in Nanaimo harbor closed due to war conditions. They are as tame as kittens and great pets of the Newcastle Island caretaker and his wife. W. A. Mather, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway which owns and operates Newcastle Island, is making a present of the deer to Victoria, B.C., for the city's beautiful Beacon Hill Park where they will replace two deer destroyed by vandals.

Mammoth Circus

British Occupation Forces In Germany

To Put On Big Show

The British 2nd Army went into the show business in a big way with urgent appeal for clowns, trapeze artists, bareback riders and roughabouts to operate a mammoth circus captured in the closing days of the war.

Hundreds of German prisoners and displaced Allied nationals, many of them circus performers before the war, already have started putting the show in order for a grand opening day. It will go on for the entertainment of British occupation forces.

The circus will be bigger than most peacetime shows, for it includes several "big tops" seized by Allied troops in their advance to the Elbe.

Elephants and bears were captured at Bremen in one strangled circus, and when the British got to Hamburg they found a circus tent intact, along with a few performers and a string of circus horses.

Ever since, the Army has been hunting through its prison camps and among the liberated slave workers for veteran circus acts. Many who already have been assembled and are training for the opening.

Found He Was Wrong

Great Composer Brahms Thanked Friend For Object Lesson

The composer Brahms was occasionally given to fits of depression, during which he could see no future for his chosen art. One night he stood on a bridge with a friend, and, staring unseeing across the river, exclaimed dejectedly, "Everything I write in music has been done. There with the Germans, attempted to purchase his freedom by donating $1,600,000 kroner (approximately $1,600,000) to the Norwegian Red Cross the day Germany capitulated.

"It can't be," his friend said. "There is no last wave."

"No," agreed his friend, "there is not. And there is not wave in music."

"You are right, my wise friend," exclaimed the composer, warmly grasping the other's hand. "You have given me new hope."

Is Well Deserved

Infantry In Future Will Be Printed With Capital Letter

Field Marshal Lord Wavell's protest has quickly borne fruit. Only a few weeks ago the Indian Viceroy called attention in the British press to the fact that in all official and unofficial documents, and even in newspapers, the infantry was the only branch of the fighting services—actually so far as the army goes it is less a branch than the main trunk—not printed with a capital letter.

One reads of the R.N., the R.A.F., the R.E., the R.A., even of Signals or the R.A.M.C., but only and always of the "infantry". Now it has been officially intimated by Sir James Grigg that in future this slight is to be remedied and it will always be the "Infantry". Old soldiers, who served in the gravel crushers, are aware, however, that the Infantry have long capitalized themselves under the grimly cryptic initials "The P.B.I." Old Infantrymen rejoice that justice is at last being done to the least spectacular but by far the most vital part of the army.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

Brazil A Real Ally

Has Contributed Much Already And Her Help Is Appreciated

The active participation of Brazil in the war against Japan is not necessary to assure Japanese defeat, but Brazil's declaration of war against the island empire is appreciated just the same.

Brazil took considerably more than a token part in the war against Germans. Not only did she provide valuable air bases and supplies, but she sent troops who distinguished themselves fighting in the Italian campaign. And against Japan Brazil stands ready to do anything required of her, even to providing military manpower, which undoubtedly will not be asked.

The practical value of Brazil's declaration of war against Japan lies in the maintenance of Brazilian bases at United States disposal and in the suppression of sabotage at the hands of the sizable Japanese colony in Brazil.

Under the original agreement, based upon the United States declaration of war against Brazil were to revert to Brazil six months after the end of the war in Europe. The declaration of war assures continued American use of the bases.

Brazil's action is doubly welcome as a contribution of United Nations solidarity and as a further affirmation of friendship for the United States—Buffalo Courier Express.

Knows The Sea

Angus Macdonald Gave Fine Speech On Canadian Navy Men

Browsing through Hansard we come across a passage of great beauty spoken by Angus Macdonald on the men of the Canadian Navy. This:

"Soon they will come back—those who are left—back over the great oceans where their laurels and honors have been gathered. They will come back to kit up the ravelled skein of their lives, and some of them will dwell far from that element which was once their home and their battleground. Yet I venture to say that so long as memory lasts the recollection of these great days will be with them, and along with the consciousness of duty done they will carry in their hearts forever the image of a gallant ship and the spell of the great sea."

This, which happened to be Mr. Macdonald's voluntary as navy minister, seems to us authentic eloquence; and we doubt whether anyone who had not lived by the sea and known its haunting beauty could have spoken it—Ottawa Journal.

REG'LAR FELLERS—Heavily Outnumbered

HOTEL MAN QUILTS—Presented by the staff of Hotel Saskatchewan and colleagues of the C.P.R. hotel system throughout Canada marked the retirement of John J. Meredith, veteran of 40 years in the hotel business at Montreal, Buffalo, N.Y., Toronto, Banff and Lake Louise. For 14 seasons until the resort closed because of the war, Mr. Meredith was manager of Chateau Lake Louise, in the Canadian Rockies. When that hotel closed he went to Hotel Saskatchewan, Regina, in the fall of 1942.

Old Razor Blades

Are Now Used To Make As New Style Lawn Mower

There is a man in the States who says that he has constructed an electric lawn mower out of six old razor blades and an old vacuum cleaner motor. A rotor was attached to the shaft of the motor and arranged to support three blades on both arms. The blades, which are clamped in place, turn with the rotor at high speed and cut the grass neatly and cleanly. The cord for supplying power to the motor is no more troublesome than that of any vacuum cleaner. The razor blades withstand anything except stones and heavy twigs.

If this discovery does not start industry off on a new post-war tack, a good guess will have been missed. The family gardener would not wait a minute were it not for the absence of an old vacuum cleaner motor—Woodstock Sentinel Review.

EASY DOES IT

By M. T. GRIFFIN

McClure Newspaper Syndicate

Edna Benton was less than half-way to the Point when rain drops began spattering on the windshield. "Darn!" she muttered. Night driving was bad enough, but driving in the rain—it was getting chilly, too. She had nothing over her wool dress. When Paul called at eight to say that he was marooned in a crazy little place called Harper's Point, and that he had just missed the only night train, she had answered gaily, "Don't worry, old dear, I'm already on the way. See you within an hour." And she had hopped into the car just as she was.

It was a surprise to have Paul returning so soon. He had expected, and to be away four or five days, and now here he was coming back after only two. The car was in the shop when he left. She was glad the repairs were finished in time for this.

The rain was coming down heavily now. She drove over to the curb and looked in the back seat for a possible wrap. Ah, Paul's jacket. Just the thing. She pulled it on gratefully. It smelled of strong tobacco, and one of his many pipes was in the pocket. She drove more slowly as she left the city lights behind her. Out this far people were apt to be walking in the road, and she could not see very well through the driving rain.

She was well out in the country when her headlights picked out the figure of a woman walking ahead of her. It was a funny sight. She was holding a newspaper over her head in a vain attempt to keep dry. On an impulse Edna stopped. "Throw away the make believe umbrella and hop in," she cried.

"Gee, thanks!" She was dripping water all over the car floor. "Wish you'd happened along about a mile back. That bonnet of mine set me back four hard-earned dollars." She had removed the hat and was gazing ruefully at it. "And look at it now."

Edna looked. It was bright red straw top-heavy with trimming. I wouldn't give four cents for it, Edna thought. Aloud she said, "Pretty drooping looking, all right." Then, "Do you usually go walking in the rain?"

"Only way you can get anywhere around here is walk," said the woman. "Ain't lucky enough to own a car." As an afterthought she added, "Say, this is a pretty nice bus you got, dearie. Don't you think it's a little bit risky picking up strangers?" After all, you're just a kid, you know, and it's pretty lonely around these parts."

"I can take care of myself," said Edna. But already she regretted her impulsive act. She stole a glance at her guest. Hard-headed, she thought, and her heart began to pound heavily.

The woman kept up a stream of small talk. Edna responded brightly, consoling herself with the thought, She'll be getting off at the next house, sure. Houses were few and far between, but they came and went and still her passenger made no move.

It was when they reached the wooded stretch that Edna missed her bag. It had been lying in her lap, and now there was nothing there. Nothing at all. Her hands were moist on the steering wheel and her lips were dry. A month's house money. And Paul worked so hard for it. What would he say? She had only herself to blame for this. Then a wave of relief swept over her. The bag must have fallen to the floor. She slowed the car and peered down hopefully. But nothing—noting anywhere.

"Drop something?" asked the voice beside her. Edna did not answer. She couldn't. She thought. It must have happened when I turned to wind up the window. This was a dangerous woman. Edna dared not move. She sat like an image, her mind in a whirl, her pounding heart suffocating her. A month's house money. She had to get it back. Suddenly she had an idea.

She brought the car to a halt with grinding brakes, dropped her hand into the pocket of the jacket, jabbed the stem of Paul's pipe into the woman's man's side and said in a curiously calm voice, "Drop the bag, sister, and get gone!"

It was ridiculously easy. She heard the woman's quick intake of breath, the thud of the bag falling on the floor, and the bang of the car door. Then she was speeding, speed...

"Oh, Paul," she said tearfully, as she drew up beside him, "it sure is good to see you," said Paul, "but what's the matter, kitten? You look funny."

"Get in and I'll tell you." She was sliding out of the driver's seat.

"Here, take this with you," he said, picking up the sofa pillow she always sat on. Then, "Hello! A new place for this, isn't it?"

"For what?" she asked, turning. He was holding something in his hand. For a moment she just sat there stricken. It was her pocket book. Now she remembered putting it under the pillow when she stopped to get the jacket. She clapped her hands over her mouth to hold back a scream.

"Edna, for Pete's sake, what is it?" shouted Paul.

For answer she snapped on the car light. There on the floor at her feet lay a bright red patent leather bag.

Quinine Still Scarce

Java The Only World Source Is Held By Japanese

Quinine, the drug essential in combating malaria, continues one of the most acute supply shortages. Munitions Department officials said.

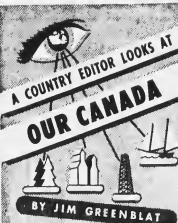

When the Japs took Java in early 1942, with it went the only world source of quinine. The Allies had a stockpile but it was not large enough to give assurance of adequate supplies and against it was an increasing demand.

The development of air routes over malaria-infested areas, fighting in Africa and the Pacific war itself meant new demands for quinine.

Intensified fighting in the Pacific is going to mean a further increase in these requirements, and so far synthetic substitutes have not gone far in meeting the call, so the Allied stockpile continues to be the main source, and it is going down.

HOG PRODUCTION DECLINES

Reflecting sharp reductions in the United States and Canada, the world's hog production declined about nine per cent. during last year to complicate the problem of stretching meat supplies over a wear-wary world, the office of foreign agricultural relations at Washington said.

Did Not Like It

But German Field Marshal Took Orders From British Bomber

Field Marshal von Milch, one time successor to Goering, and General Hasso von Manteuffel, former commander of the German Third Panzer Army, are in a Luneburg prison camp where they live on Army rations.

But they are eking these out with champagne, eggs and custards brought to them almost daily by women admirers and friends.

German girls stand outside the gates in groups, hoping to get the general's autographs.

Once von Milch was impatient as not being able to go for his walk at the time he wished. A guard Bombardier Hadley, from Durham, told him to wait.

"Who are you to give an order to a field marshal?" snorted Milch.

"I'm a bombardier in the British Army," said Hadley. London Daily Express.

• Promotion: Sgt. W. J. Maitland, D.F.M., son of B.C.'s Attorney-General, lost his life in action last year in the skies over Germany. His mother, searching through his boyhood scrapbook, recently found this poem written by her son when he was twelve years of age, which foretold the war and his death. That was only six years ago. Canadians can well read this and think:

"We are the heroes of the air,
We fight and laugh and die and roar.
To come near us no foe would dare
For such a stream of lead we pour.
Our planes go crashing to the ground;
Our men fall not the sight of Hell.
All the sons of us lie beneath a man's bier,
Who for their King and Country fell."

"Oh how the dusky tempest blows!
And the battle in the sky kept on.
As through the air the bullets flew
Until the brightness of the dawn."

Pie Eaters—Notice! Souffle Pie Is News

And who isn't a pie eater? Not many people, we'll wager. Even after a substantial meal, this light puff of a Grapefruit Souffle pie with its tart, fresh flavor, will put the right finishing touches on their appetites. More good news—this dessert requires only 1/2 cup of sugar.

GRAPEFRUIT SOUFFLE PIE
3 tablespoons butter, or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup milk
2 eggs, separated
Prepare pastry shell; prick lightly with a fork. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) 8 to 10 minutes to set crust.

Melt butter over low heat; add flour and salt and stir until smooth. Add milk slowly, stirring constantly; cook until thick. Cool slightly. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored; slowly add cooled mixture. Add orange rind, grapefruit sections and juice, sugar and flavoring. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into pastry shell and bake in slow oven (300 F.) about 1 hour. Yield: One 9-inch pie.

All-Bran Pastry Shell

2 tablespoons All-Bran
1/4 cup sifted flour
2 tablespoons cold water (more or less)

Crush All-Bran into fine crumbs; mix with flour and salt. Cut in shortening. Add water, a little at a time, until dough is moist enough to hold together. Roll out on lightly floured board to about one-eighth inch thickness. Fit into pie pan; trim edges.

Use of warm colors such as yellows, creams and browns in painting a room will give the room the illusion of added warmth. Use of blues and greens will make it feel cooler than it actually is.

Motoring In Britain

Gasoline Ration Sufficient For Only

120 Miles A Month

British motorists, barred from the highways since the start of the war more than 5½ years ago, have returned to the road with gasoline rations sufficient to drive 120 miles a month.

The Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders estimated that lifting of the ban would result in the return to use of approximately 250,000 pleasure cars, bringing to about 750,000 the number of vehicles on the roads. Before the war 2,000,000 cars travelled the roads.

Trade circles expressed belief that return of many pre-war cars would be delayed because of a use tax or compulsory insurance and the high price of gasoline—about 43 cents a gallon.

For the present, most drivers will have to be satisfied with machines of pre-war vintage. A purchase tax of 33 1/3 per cent. plus scarcity of materials and labor, will limit the number of new cars on the road for some time to come.

TWAS ON THE ISLE OF CAPRI—

First Canadian servicewoman to be posted to an active theatre of operations, was Capt. Cynthia Oakley, formerly of Toronto, who spent five and one half years overseas in England and Italy. Highlight of her stay in Italy was a surprise visit from her sister, Sgt. Helen Oakley of the United States Women's Army Corps, who is stationed in Algiers. "She hitch-hiked by plane and just walked on me one day at work," Capt. Oakley explained. The sisters spent several happy days together on the song-famous Isle of Capri, a welcome interlude from army work. Capt. Oakley returned to England when the Canadian troops were moved out of Italy. She has since been returned to Canada and is now employed in the Directorate of Military Training in Ottawa.

RETIRED—

Lt.-Col. Mary J. Dover, specialist assigned to the D.A.G. (C), has recently been retired from the Canadian Women's Army Corps. Lt.-Col. Dover is the daughter of the late Mr. A. E. Cross and Mrs. Cross of Calgary, Alta. and the wife of Major McEvily Grant Dover, Ceylon manager of the Ford Motor Company of India, Ltd., recently returned to Canada after serving in the Ceylon Garrison Artillery. Col. Dover has had a colourful career both in the C.W.A.C. and before she received her appointment to the Corps. On the completion of her schooling she went to England on a short trip with her parents. In 1928 she started on a world tour and it was on that trip that she met her husband in Bombay. They were married in Calgary in April, 1930. Following their marriage they returned to Bombay, and for the next two years, Mrs. Dover travelled extensively with her husband in India and Burma. In 1933 their son David was born. In June, 1939, Mrs. Dover and David returned to Calgary. After the outbreak of war she became chairman of three federal ridings, Calgary East, Calgary West and Bow Valley for the National Registration of Women. In September, 1941, she received her appointment to the C.W.A.C. and has served in various capacities in the Corps up until her recently announced retirement.

Fish & Game Notes

At a meeting in the Grand Union on June 8, two new committees were appointed. Adam Wilson was appointed chief publicity agent for the Association, with a committee of J. Kerr and F. Kynol. The second committee will look after entertainment. It consists of W. Biela, chairman; J. Jenkins, W. Kubica, A. Wilson and N. Fleming jr.

The latter committee already has planned a picnic to be held shortly at Crows' Nest Lake.

A goodly response was made by the membership to purchase subscriptions to the Games & Trails magazine through the local Association.

On June 13 members from all Pass fish and game clubs gathered at Turtle Mountain Playgrounds to hear an address by the Alberta Fish & Game president, J. McGhee. At this meeting the Pass clubs were promised that 7,000 trout, 4 to 6 inches, would be released in Pass waters. These 7,000 trout are a gift from the Pincher Creek Fish & Game Association and the Pass clubs voice their sincere thanks.

While in the past, individuals in your town have subscribed to this magazine, I would like to draw your attention to the following:

As an affiliated association with the central body, your members are entitled to receive Game Trials at the club membership rate of 40 cents per year per member. These subscriptions, however, must come through your secretary. Individual members cannot send in. You will appreciate this policy, Mr. Knowles, as we do not know who are and who are not members. This also tends to build up the membership of the organization.

I sincerely trust you will place this before your executive at its next meeting.

To the Coleman Fish & Game Association, my sincere best wishes for their future activities.

Yours very sincerely,

To The People
Of The Macleod Riding

First I would like to congratulate Mr. Hansell on his victory in the Macleod Riding and to thank him and all other candidates for the clean manner and conduct of this campaign.

I would also like to thank the people who supported me at the polls, and the people who gave so much of their time and efforts during the campaign.

Although we lost out in this Macleod Constituency, we are proud to have our Liberal Party returned to power, with the Right Honorable W. L. Mackenzie King as its leader, the same government that has guided us safely through one of the greatest crisis of our history and which will mean so much to all of us in the future.

THERE'S ENOUGH
IN THE SUGAR BOWL . . .
If we all share equally

We Canadians, together with the citizens of the United States and Great Britain, will eat less sugar during the balance of 1945.

To meet our own needs and the urgent requirements of our Allies and the liberated countries, our share of the reduction must total nearly 200,000,000 pounds of sugar during the rest of the year.

To assure fair distribution of what is left, the sugar ration is to be cut by five pounds during the next seven months by reducing the monthly allotment to one pound in June, July, August, October and December. In September and November, the allowance will remain unchanged at two pounds.

The ten pound sugar allotment for home canning, represented by twenty extra preserves coupons, remains unchanged. Two regular preserves coupons will continue to become valid each month.

ANSWERS TO YOUR QUESTIONS ABOUT SUGAR

Q. How does Canada get its share of world sugar supplies?

A. World stocks are pooled by the Combined Food Board of the United Nations which allocates sugar to Canada, United States and Great Britain on a uniform per capita basis.

Q. Where does the rest of the world sugar supply go?

A. To other claimants, including liberated areas, European neutrals, Russia, the Middle East, New Zealand and other sugar-importing countries. Approximately one-half of this total is destined for liberated areas.

Q. Is there less sugar in the world today?

A. Yes. Because needs are up and production is down, world sugar stocks reached a new low at the end of 1944. By the end of this year, they will be down again, this time to a dangerous minimum.

Q. Why is there more demand for sugar?

A. The rising demand largely reflects the needs of liberated areas.

Q. Why is there less production?

A. World sugar output is lower for these reasons:

1. Enemy occupation of some sources such as Java and the Philippines. Java, of course, is still in Japanese hands and, although the Philippines are liberated, production is not expected to be restored until late in 1946.

2. Other export countries have experienced serious shortages of labour and fertilizer.

3. Record drought conditions and hurricanes have also cut into production in the important West Indian area.

INDUSTRIAL AND QUOTA USERS WILL ALSO GET LESS

Effective July 1, 1945, sugar made available to industrial users, such as bakeries, biscuit and breakfast cereal manufacturers, makers of soft drinks, confectionery and candy manufacturers, will again be reduced.

A further cut is also being made in the allotment to quota users, such as public eating places, while similar reductions are being made by the Armed Forces in the sugar quotas for service personnel.

Report on St. Alban's Anniversary Service,

At the 9 a.m. celebration of the Holy Communion at St. Alban's on Anniversary Sunday, this service was taken by Archdeacon Middleton, assisted by the Rector. In the congregation were Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Burrows, who have so faithfully and untiringly labored for the welfare of St. Alban's. Mrs. Burrows was for many years superintendent of the Sunday school.

There was Holy Eucharist at St. Luke's, Blairmore, at 11 a.m., with a large congregation present. The Archdeacon preached and extended hearty congratulations to St. Luke's congregation on the many improvements made in the church, too numerous to enumerate, chiefly due owing to the untiring efforts of Mr. H. M. Bennett, people's warden.

The young people's service at St. Alban's was well attended. The children went in procession to the church—a new banner which has been made by Mrs. Fred Fisher, was carried by Alan Kostelnik. The Archdeacon presented a prize to each child and gave an address on the text "There is a lad here."

Evensong was a most hearty service. Chairs had to be brought from the hall to accommodate the large congregation. The Rector took the office, Rev. B. S. Green, from Brocket, read the scripture lesson and the Archdeacon presided. Miss Frances Dibblee sang a solo, "In a Monastery Garden," and John Graham was violinist. The Archdeacon preached a challenging sermon and recalled the names of many who had labored in the past, especially Mrs. F. G. Graham, whose example will ever be an inspiration.

Following the service a social hour was spent in the hall and refreshments were kindly served by St. Alban's Women's Guild. Short addresses were given by the Archdeacon, Rev. B. S. Green and Mrs. Green, Messrs. W. L. Burrows, W. H. Garner and Geo. Derbyshire. Mr. W. T. Pettifor expressed the thanks of the congregation to the Archdeacon and Mr. Green for their services. The National Anthem brought a most happy day to a

Blood, Sweat And Tears

IN A RECENT ARTICLE PUBLISHED by the British Ministry of Information, some of the facts relating to Britain's part in the allied victory in Europe are reviewed and a number of interesting details concerning her mighty war effort are made known. Events move so quickly in these times that public attention is constantly directed to new situations and developments. It should never be forgotten, however, that the people of Britain remained firm in the days when they alone stood in the way of complete victory for the conquering German and Italian armies in Western Europe. Had they given up at that time, the liberation of Europe would have been delayed for many years, and would have been doubly difficult to accomplish. Five years ago, Mr. Churchill told the nation that "blood, sweat and tears" lay ahead and the article states that this promise was accepted by the British people "in the greatest unspoken contract in history."

Heavy Losses Were Suffered

The defeat of Germany, military security prevented the publication of many details concerning the British war effort. It is now known, however, that 5,500,000 men or military age served in the armed forces of the United Kingdom. This represented more than one in every nine persons in the entire population. Casualties in the services are given as one out of every ten men. Up to the end of August, 1944, civilian casualties due to enemy action totalled 57,000 killed and 79,000 injured. One out of every 200 homes in Britain were destroyed or damaged by enemy action, 202,000 being totally destroyed up to the end of September, 1944. Robot bomb attacks, which came after "D" Day damaged or destroyed over one million homes.

Produced For United Nations

In spite of the great diversion of manpower to the armed forces, and in spite also of heavy air attacks, production of military equipment and supplies in British factories reached enormous proportions. From these factories came seventy per cent. of all the arms and equipment for the United Kingdom, Dominions, Indian and Colonial forces until "D" Day, and one third of all the equipment of the United States forces in the European theatre from June, 1942, to June, 1944. In addition, up to June, 1944, $1,200,000,000 worth of supplies including fighters, planes and tanks had been sent to Russia. During the German occupation of Europe, Britain was the rallying point for patriots from all parts of the Continent and British leaders did much to unify the great United Nations front against Nazi tyranny. Britain's war effort is now being directed towards the defeat of Japan. When peace is restored, there will remain the great task of world reconstruction, and the writer for the British Ministry of Information says: "In this work Great Britain, in concert with her fellow nations of the Commonwealth, is prepared to shoulder the same responsibilities of leadership which have seen the world through its greatest military crisis."

Russian Ambassador To United States Learns Something About Cake

Earl Wilson tells a story about Litvinoff, former Russian ambassador to the United States who on a visit to the White House was served some delicious "Washington Cake". The cake was of white filling and white icing. Remembering it when on a train later, Litvinoff asked a Negro dining-car waiter for Washington Cake. The waiter served him a piece of delicious chocolate cake with chocolate icing.

"This is a funny country," Litvinoff said to the waiter. "The last Washington Cake I had was all white. This is all black."

"Well," replied the waiter, "in this country we have two Washingtons—George and Booker T."

The old English pound was originally the weight of 7,680 grains of wheat "taken from the middle of the ear and well dried."

London Churches

Many Edifices Suffered Severely From Bomb Raids

If legend is true, there hasn't been a Cockney born in London since early in 1941.

Legend says that to be a true Cockney one has to be born within the sound of the Bow Bells and these bells haven't sounded since the Spring of 1941 when the Church of St. Mary Le-Bow was burned out in the blitz. It was these bells which legend says called Dick Whittington back to London to be Lord Mayor.

St. Mary-Le-Bow was not alone in suffering from air raids. Through the European war years when the Germans struck intermittently at this capital, 66 churches were damaged or destroyed, among them some world-famous because of their beauty of design or religious tradition.

St. Paul's, its massive dome a natural target, was among the first to hit. It was shaken in 1940, but the most serious blow came in April, 1941, when a bomb pierced the wall and debris from the roof collapsed part of the main floor and destroyed the cathedral's renowned organ.

A month later Westminster Abbey was hit, its 16th century structure being shaken at the same time the nearby houses of Parliament were damaged.

Another ecclesiastical building to suffer was Lambeth Palace, traditional home of the Archbishops of Canterbury. The chapel was hardest hit, but the entire structure was pitted with bomb fragments. St. Clement Danes, whose chimes has been written the jingle "Oranges and Lemons says the Bells of St. Clements", was also virtually destroyed.

Christ Church, which has as part of its structure the Lincoln Tower commemorating the abolition of slavery in the United States, was hit early in 1941 and the tower, built in 1867, toppled.

One of the most beautiful London churches destroyed was St. Stephen's, a small but exquisite structure designed by Sir Christopher Wren.

The interior of St. Stephen's was believed to have been Wren's model for St. Paul's.

Another to go was the one round church in the city, Temple Church, known as the finest Norman cathedral in Europe and burial place of Oliver Goldsmith, St. Leonard's, where Dr. Samuel Johnson worshipped, was destroyed in 1941.

Religious centres of the various races which make up London's cosmopolitan life were not spared. The Dutch church of Austin Friars, where Netherlanders have worshipped since 1540, was hit, as was Notre Dame de France, centre of French religious activity in London.

The bombing, however, brought some compensations. When St. Mary's, in Islington Borough, was damaged the plaster on the roof fell, revealing unknown beauties of ancient carpentry.

Experts went over the ruins to discover hitherto unknown secrets of design which will help beautify Britain's churches of tomorrow.

Educating The Nazi

This Lady Appeared To Be Able To Defy Authority

A story which reaches me from Italy will appeal to those who, as small boys or girls, have trembled in the tutorial presence. It concerns an English governess of majestic deportment resident in Florence. She was there when the Nazis took over and was in no way disconcerted by the institution of the "new order". From her angle it was merely another foreign eccentricity.

The Nazis took themselves more seriously. They decided that the governess should go to a concentration camp, and one of them went to arrest her. He found an erect and quite composed lady who addressed him as if he were a small boy caught in a misdemeanour.

"My good man," she said coldly, "you can't arrest me. I'm English."

And he didn't. She was still there when the Allies arrived—Leeds Yorkshire Post.

AN ANCIENT CITY

Remains of an ancient city, as old if not older than Damascus—which is said to be the oldest city in the world—has been unearthed on the shores of Lake Tiberias. The town is known as "Beth Yerah"—a name mentioned in Talmudic literature.

"This is a funny country," Litvinoff said to the waiter. "The last Washington Cake I had was all white. This is all black."

"Well," replied the waiter, "in this country we have two Washingtons—George and Booker T."

The old English pound was originally the weight of 7,680 grains of wheat "taken from the middle of the ear and well dried."

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q—I have been discharged from the army and wish to move into my own home. Will I have to give the present tenants six-months' notice?

A—The Prices Board has announced new rental regulations as of July 1, 1941, which will enable already discharged veterans of the Canadian armed forces to re-occupy homes evicted by them after giving the present tenants a three months' notice to vacate.

Q—to settle an argument how high did the cost of living go after the 1914-18 war and what is the figure to date in the present war.

A—On Armistice Day, Nov. 11, 1918, the cost of living in Canada figure was 538 higher than in July of 1914, the month before that war started. The peak of inflation occurred 20 months after Armistice Day, 1918, and in July of 1920 when the peak was reached. The cost of living in 1914, which means you paid almost twice as much for goods in July of 1920 than you did before that war started. The figure for this war is now 181 above the August, 1939 figure and is only 23 above the cost of living figure of November, 1941, when price control became an actuality.

Q—are dealers obliged when selling oranges to mark the size and mark with the size of the oranges?

A—Yes, price and size of oranges displayed must be clearly marked.

Q—is there any chance of my being able to buy more canned grapefruit juice in the future? Is it available?

A—There is no prospect of increased supplies of grapefruit juice this year. Because of adverse grapefruit crop conditions in the United States and heavy consumption of grapefruit juice in Canada, a shortage of pure grapefruit juice for this year has been reduced. However, to offset this loss, limited quantities of blended grapefruit and orange juice will be available.

Q—Please send your questions or your request for the pamphlet "Consumers' News" or the Blue Book in which you keep track of your ceiling prices, mentioning your ceiling price, to the nearest War-time Prices and Trade Board office in your province.

SMILE AWHILE

A pal said to me yesterday "How's the wife?"

"Her back's troubling her," I told him.

Lumagoo?"

"No, she wants a new fur coat."

And her husband has a prosperous business, I suppose?"

"Oh, yes, he is taking in a lot of money. Only last night he told me a receiver was to be appointed to assist him."

They were discussing a certain M.P.

"The trouble with him," observed the cynic, "is that he takes too modest a view of his own importance."

"For the first time since I've been at this restaurant the charge is reasonable," said the guest.

"Reasonable?" echoed the waiter, surprised. "I had better have another look at the bill. There must be some mistake."

As the shifty-looking individual prepared to leave the restaurant, another diner accosted him timidly: "Excuse me, but do you happen to know John Smith of Newcastle?"

"No, I'm not," sniped the shifty fellow aggressively.

"Oh—er—well," replied the other, "you see, I am, and that's his overcoat you're putting on!"

A young soldier who has escaped over the frontier into Switzerland from a prisoner-of-war camp wrote to his father: "Hope to return home soon, so kill the fatigues. Is there anything you would like me to bring?"

His father wrote back: "Yes—bring fatted calf!"

An English tourist travelling in the north of Scotland, far away from anywhere, exclaimed to one of the natives:

"Why, what do you do when any of you is ill? You can never get a doctor."

"Nae, sir," replied Sandy, "we've just to die a natural death."

"Where are you going this summer?"

"Well, I'm looking for novelty. I want to be in some place where I can do as I choose and where the summer scenery will brand new to me."

"Have you found such a place?"

"Yes, I'm going to stay home."

The average cost of making a movie film has been estimated at $400,000.

Was Really Hard Job For Security Officers During War

It may be revealed now that our security officers several times had heart shocks during the bad days, and even the good ones of the Euro-Western Ltd., Toronto, before the war, particular precautions Canadian Manufacturers' Association were taken to see that not a whisper escaped about Britain's Prime Minister's many hazardous missions, reports a London correspondent. On his next trip to President Roosevelt, Mr. Churchill embarked at Greenock in H.M.S. Duke of York. He was recognized by hundreds of people as he drove to naval headquarters on the Clyde, and made matters worse by freely chatting with delighted Wrens and service people of all kinds. Nor was it possible for anyone to mistake his figure, standing on the Admiralty barge, and further identified by the big cigar he was puffing. On his next Clyde departure the security officers were determined to take extra precautions against this sort of thing. For the U-boat campaign was at its peak. So they ran the Prime Minister down to the Gareloch and by steamer to where the Queen Mary awaited her illustrious passenger. But the steamer met a tender crowded with G.I.s, who promptly recognized Winston and making the inevitable V sign.

GOERING SAYS ALLIED AIR POWER WAS RESPONSIBLE FOR DEFEAT OF GERMANY

12TH ARMY GROUP HEADQUARTERS, Germany.—American interrogation officers said Reichsmarshall Hermann Goering had told them that:

Hilter gave the Japanese the German blueprints for a jet fighter, and these plans were taken to Japan by submarine. Germany once planned to occupy the Azores; He himself had unsuccessfully urged Hitler to seize Gibraltar. Allied air power assured the success of the invasion.

Hilter ordered the "perfect" German jet fighter converted into a bomber and "in your aerial warfare you had a great ally in the Fuehrer" because of Hitler's decisions.

In the interrogations, which produced more opinions than solid facts from Goering, the one-time powerful Nazi expressed disbelief that Russia could afford to enter the war against Japan without endangering her post-war economic position, the officers said.

As for the jet fighter, the blueprints of which were given to the Japanese, Goering said "There is a big difference between looking at a blueprint and being able to do anything with it."

Goering was quoted as saying these factors led to Germany's defeat: Hitler's ignorance of the uses of air power; the unreliability of the Italians in the Mediterranean; the destructive force of United States long-range heavy bombers, and the overall supremacy of European waters of the British home fleet.

Goering said the Germans failed to invade Britain after the downfall of France because of the German navy's inadequate shipping space, an insufficient number of landing craft and fear of the Royal Navy, but expressed belief that an invasion would have succeeded once a bridgehead had been obtained because Britain had not enough bombers at that time.

Goering said that early in the war he saw the need of taking Gibraltar by shipping down through Spain and assaulting that British bastion from the rear. The Spaniards he said, were friendly to the Germans because the "Germans had saved them from Communism."

Declaring that the Spaniards were weak and would have made no objection to the passage of German troops through Spanish territory, Goering said that for the same reason Francisco Franco would have granted the German Spanish ports for their submarine.

Many Allied officers consider that the failure of the Germans to attempt to take Gibraltar constituted a blunder second in scope only to the failure to attempt to invade Britain.

Goering said he saw this and used all his persuasive powers on Hitler, but Hitler could not see it and in his madness turned from Gibraltar and plunged into Russia.

A DEFINITE ARRANGEMENT FOR AN EARLY BIG THREE MEETING TO IRON OUT ANY DIFFERENCES

WASHINGTON.—President Truman jubilantly disclosed the definite setting of an early "Big Three" meeting and said there are prospects for a complete settlement of the Polish issue.

Obviously elated over confidential reports from Harry Hopkins and Joseph E. Davies his special emissaries, the president announced to a news conference:

1. While he cannot divulge the time or place upon which all have agreed, he will meet soon with Marshal Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill to iron out any remaining differences among the Big Three.

2. The results of the Hopkins and Davies missions have been completely satisfactory and gratifying" and very pleasant yielding by Russia on some points has clarified three power relationships substantially.

3. He has every hope a free and democratic election among the Polish people will grow out of a conference to seek a compromise basis for the reorganization of the provisional Polish government.

4. James F. Byrnes, former war mobilization director, will accompany him to the "Big Three" meeting along with Secretary of State Stettinius, Mr. Hopkins, Mr. Davies, Fleet Admiral William D. Leahy, presidential chief of staff, and Secretary Charles G. Ross.

After the United States entered the war, success for the Allies became certain because of the irresistible numerical superiority of the Allied air forces, Goering added, declaring: "The Allies owe the success of the invasion to the air forces. They prepared the invasion, they made it possible, they carried it through."

The Allied air force, he said, made it impossible to bring German ground forces forward fast enough for suitable counter attack, and German armor never was able to function well under Allied aerial harassment.

FOR LOWER TAXES

Proposal To Ease War-Time Burden At Earliest Moment

OTTAWA.—Informed government sources revealed that Prime Minister Mackenzie King plans to hold a session of parliament no later than mid-August to implement the ministry's campaign pledges of tax reduction.

Preparation for the sessions, these sources disclose have been underway for some weeks past ever since Finance Minister J. L. Ilsley early in the election contest stated definitely that the government proposed to mitigate at the earliest possible moment the wartime burden of the personal income and excess profit taxes.

A mid-August session is said to be earliest date at which a session is practicable in view of the complexities involved in any legislation to overhaul the intricate personal and business income tax structure.

No authoritative indication is available as yet on the extent of the taxation cut that may be expected. Some observers are speculating, however upon the possibility of an over-all reduction of 25 per cent.

Rescinding of the 25 per cent luxury tax upon jewelry is also reported as slated for the August session.

FOR ROYAL NAVY

Post Of Admiral For The Air Has Been Created

LONDON.—The admiralty disclosing that "more than one-third of the navy's entire personnel is concerned with navy flying," announced the appointment of Vice Admiral Denis W. Boyd to the newly-created post of admiral for the air.

The creation of this new flag appointment has been made with the object of integrating naval aviation more closely with general naval administration," the admiralty said.

SOURCE OF RUBBER
PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad.—Now methods of tapping rubber trees introduced by Mexican experts last year, have yielded such good results that within the last 10 months the trees produced an unprecedented amount of rubber.

Asserting the Polish problem, which long has disturbed relations among the Big Three is on the road to settlement, the president said that nothing be done on this side of the Atlantic to muddy the waters by raising questions as to final acquiescence by present members of the London Polish government.

British commander-in-chief in the Middle East who was ordered to intervene in the Syrian-French dispute that was causing bloodshed, is shown (right foreground) with Terence Shone, British minister to Syria, shortly after his arrival in Beirut, Syria, for a conference with army chiefs. French ceased fire in accordance with a demand made by Prime Minister Churchill, but refused to withdraw to their barracks, insisting on holding their lines.
